Keeping the villages connected....

Kilburn News

Kilburn Treasure Hunt

And so now, each summer, on the last Friday before the summer holidays the treasure hunters assemble. Between 130 and 180 people of all ages form teams from lone wolves up to the whole family (including Great Aunt Sheila). You might see them pointing at a gnome or studying the bus timetables with forensic precision. Participants find answers to a series of riddle-based clues, hidden in gardens and in streets. The team with the most correct answers are the winners, announced later in the Kilburn News. You will hear a few groans as they realise it was the other gnome they wanted, after the answers are revealed at the end.

Don't be worried if you think it's not for the smaller children in the family, younger treasure hunters are kept involved with their children's challenge – spotting the well-hidden owls, frogs, and turtles around the route. Of course, all this brainstorming works up both an appetite and a thirst and intrepid explorers eventually find their way back to the Hunters Arms. Landlord and landlady Mark and Paula Showers provide a BBQ as well as sweets and drinks for the children.

The Treasure Hunt isn't just about exploring Kilburn village and winning by a half point - it's a charity event, too. Proceeds from the raffle, BBQ, and clues all go toward local causes. Recently, it has supported the Gemma Brown appeal. Gemma, a Kilburn resident and childminder, sadly lost her battle with cancer in 2017. Money raised has been spent on many local causes for children in Kilburn and neighbouring villages. It seems a fitting tribute to Gemma to raise money exploring the village and playground she herself knew so well.

If you're not daunted by a couple of miles walking, a good bit of head scratching, and some interesting exploring, the Treasure Hunt might be for you. Keep an eye out for the signs around the village nearer summer and we'll see you at the Village Hall!

Arthur Medical Centre

Holiday Planning

As I prepare for a trip away I think about things I can do to help me have a good holiday without the worries of a medical drama whilst away. It is worth making some preparations:

Do I need any vaccinations?

Don't leave this too late. We can provide you with a list of those you have had but you will need to seek advice about what is needed on <https://travelhealthpro.org.uk/> or <https://www.fitfortravel.nhs.uk/home.aspx>.

We can give you some standard vaccinations on the NHS (with at least six weeks' notice) but we will now not be able to provide any chargeable vaccinations or malaria tablets so you will need to attend a local travel clinic.

Do I get travel sickness?

You can get some tablets from the chemist. You will need to take these before you travel.

How do I react to simple stings and bites?

Take some antihistamines with you to help reduce the redness, swelling and itching.

Do I want to avoid wrinkles or, worse, skin cancer?

Get plenty of sun protection with screens, hats and light clothing.

Am I prone to 'Delhi belly'?

For tummy upsets take some Imodium, rehydration salts, anti-sickness tablets, and for prevention, alcohol gel if hand washing is not possible.

Do I get aches and pains?

Take your usual over the counter pain killers that you know work for you.

Are you taking prescriptions medications?

Make sure that you have enough for your holiday and check that the country you are visiting allows you to take these with you. Take a simple First Aid kit.

You can access <https://www.nhs.uk/> and <https://patient.info/> from abroad. These are useful reliable sites that you can get advice when dealing with minor ailments.

Remember your E111 card for travel in the EU but this will only cover emergency care and you may still have to pay up front. So make sure that your travel insurance is up to date and includes all your medical conditions to make sure that a claim doesn't get rejected.

Now pack some clothes, passport and have a wonderful holiday and hopefully you won't need to open anything have you have taken and keep it for the next holiday!

Councillor Kevin Buttery – Keeping you Updated

Please be vigilant of scams, fraudsters are currently calling people to say they are due a refund on their council tax, or even a discount if they pay future council tax in advance, asking them to provide their bank or credit card details. Amber Valley Borough Council never contact residents in this way. In some cases, residents have been asked for their name and address so that a cheque can be sent. This is followed up by another telephone call claiming to be from their bank, asking them to confirm their banking details. One man was told that his bill for next year was due now and that unless he paid it in full straight away he could face a £7,000 fine. This is not something the council would ever do. In other incidents residents have been asked for upfront payments to receive a reduction on next year's bill. There is no such reduction scheme. For advice on scams you can call Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline on 03454 040 506 or to report a scam, contact Action Fraud on 0300 123 2040.

Amber Valley Borough Council is required by law to have a Local Plan which sets out the strategic priorities for development in the Borough. This covers housing, commercial, public and private development, including transport infrastructure, along with protection for the local environment. Any Council failing to have a Local Plan in place to meet Government housing targets will have its planning rights taken away, as well as the withdrawal of its New Homes Bonus, which Councils use to support front line services.

In Amber Valley's case, the housing target was set at 9,700 homes, of which it has a legal obligation to provide over 2,000 homes on behalf of Derby City. The process is that the Council asks landowners and developers to submit sites for consideration. These sites are then measured against robust planning principles to address their deliverability and sustainability. Any sites proposed are examined by an independent Government Planning Inspector, who decides whether to adopt the plan, plus whether developers will build sufficient houses within a five year period, known as a five year supply. Amber Valley would have a five year supply without having the burden of Derby City's housing.

The Council initially had over 129 sites submitted, of which only 19 sites were put forward to be considered by the Planning Inspector. With eight of these sites being Brownfield. It should be noted that 54 of the sites were in the Green Belt, 53 of which were not considered acceptable. The Council was pushed to undertake a Green Belt review in 2017. It took the decision not to, making it clear it would do everything possible to prevent having to undertake such a review by finding sufficient sites without one; which developers challenged. However, it was conceded that, after 30 years, and faced with a pausation by the Government Planning Inspector to find additional sites, a Green Belt Review was undertaken by an independent company.

Many people ask me why the Council does not make developers build on Brownfield sites first. In reality, it has no powers to do so. Plus, after the Green Belt review, out of the 14 extra sites proposed, five are Brownfield, making that 13 Brownfield sites out of 33 in total. There are also 150 Brownfield sites currently with planning permission, which account for 1,047 homes. The additional sites the Council is proposing for consideration to be included in the Local Plan is being sent to the Government Planning Inspector, residents have six weeks to make representation direct to the Government Planning Inspector against any particular site. I urge you to do so, to ensure your concerns are heard and taken into account during her decision-making process. Please note any site included, will still have to go through a stringent planning process, in which, once again, you will have the opportunity to raise your concerns. Copies of the consultation documents are available on Amber Valley's Council website on www.ambervalley.gov.uk/localplanlatest and at local libraries. There will also be five meetings held in which council officers will be available to answer questions on the consultation documents, details on the website.

The County Council has responded to the Government's Fair Funding review pointing out there appears to be a bias towards London Boroughs, cities and the south of England which puts Derbyshire at a disadvantage. We rank in the bottom 10 of worst funded councils. On a level playing field, Derbyshire would have up to an extra £300 to spend per resident on providing services. One off or short-term funding is helpful, but you cannot plan future services on that, it needs building into the baseline budget. We are urging Derbyshire MP's to back our campaign to ensure Derbyshire gets its fair share.

If there is an issue I can help you with, please contact me on 01332 781 092 or kevin.buttery@derbyshire.gov.uk.

Horsley Woodhouse and Smalley Royal British Legion

Branch meets first Monday in the month at the Legion Hall, the February meeting was cancelled due to illness. The Derbyshire County Conference took place in February at Bakewell and the Branch was represented by our Standard Bearer.

The welcome addition of several new members has strengthened our position in the fight to keep the Branch going and therefore the Hall available for use by the community. Evidence of its value to the village came last month when one week it was used every week night and on two afternoons by the public.

We received some comments after last year that the refreshment tent could do a bit better with its food offering. Therefore, this year we will be trying something different and offering afternoon tea with entertainment. Don't panic we haven't gone crazy!! You'll still be able to get a cuppa and a bag of crisps but if you fancy something a bit special join us for scones, cakes, sandwiches and a pot of tea.

We need your help we would like to serve the afternoon tea in vintage crockery – if you have any vintage cups & saucers, tea pots or cake stands that we could use please contact Chris Wilcox at secretary.hwca@hotmail.com.

We are also broadening the catering on site further with a pizza oven and a gin bar this year; hence our new parade starting time of 12.10* from Arthur Medical Centre (instead of 13.10). Don't worry the Scouts will still be offering their great burgers and hotdogs. So why not follow the parade down the village and have something to eat when you get up there.

Explorers

Explorers doing pancakes – tasted great.

Ignis Explorers did some planning for the next few months - got a lot to do!! and Duke of Edinburgh too.

Ignis Explorers Unit had a great time learning about fencing and of course taking part in the event which was delivered by Foiled again Fencing Club. Many thanks to the fencing Club as the Explorers reported it was great fun.

Well done to all the Scouts and Explorers from Ripley and Heanor District that received their Chief Scout Gold Awards in Chesterfield. This is the top award in the Scout section. They are all a credit to their parents, leaders and the district. Thank you

If you would like to join please contact the unit via the Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/IgnisExplorers/>

Cubs

Cubs had a great winter camp at Hesley Wood Scout campsite this weekend. They did crate stacking, tomahawk throwing and archery to name a few, and some sleeping too. The leaders got to have a go on the activities. Many thanks to the Cub leaders for giving up their time for free so that the Cubs can do their scouting adventure.

Cubs have been doing First Aid training. Everyone survived! This is part of our 'skills for life' campaign.

The environmental conservation badge was undertaken by the Cubs. They are learning about renewable energy, recycling, endangered species and energy saving.

Scout Hut Improvements

Thanks to our support group the Hut is still having its makeover, as the electricians have had a new cupboard built round them. We now need help tiling and painting the unit around the sink – can you help??

Can you help one or two nights during April to make it look better and finish the work off? It can be done while your child is at the meeting. Please 'pm' me or ask a leader – work like this helps the group function better and keeps the running costs down and in turn keeps the subs down too. Thanks for your support.

More improvements done at the Hut as a great new sign has been put up in place of the old one that was falling apart. It helps make the Hut look bright again.

Why not follow us on Facebook to learn more.

Starting the Carnival weekend early, join us for some great music from Scribble Victory who will be providing an excellent start to the Carnival entertainment alongside a BBQ from the Scouts. Scribble Victory were formed in November 2013, they were featured in the top 120 'long-list' for Glastonbury's Emerging Talent competition 2015 and were listed as one of the Top 50 acts to look out for in 2015 by Louder Than War magazine.
